Message from the Author...

"It's amazing how jerks can get girls. Actually, now that I think of it, it's not that amazing. To meet girls they lavish their undying love. They act nice, friendly, and they listen; until they get into what they're after. Meanwhile, the girl tries to change the jerk into a nice guy, but the jerk will always be a jerk." -Anonymous

As the author of this book, I believe nice guys can finish first. But, they just have to change their approach with women...

On the matter of nice guys VS jerks I wish I could say that the statement was ridiculous and of course the nice guys in the end will get the girl, but it's simply not true.

Women want someone who excites them, makes them feel special and gives them a thrill on a regular basis. They want somebody who sends them on an emotional rollercoaster.

This book is for all those guys who are sick of ending up as a girl's "emotional tissue" that they eventually just throw away. It's for the guy who are just tired of hearing the continuous excuses women come up with, so they don't have to talk to you or take your relationship much further...

This book will cover every aspect of how a true player is successful with women. We'll dig deep into these issues, with advice and information you can use the next to you see that hot babe sitting across or walking right by you!

The #1 Secret to Attracting Women

The art of attracting women consists of 10% projection of success, 10% appearance, 10% intelligence, and 70% charm. In a study conducted by the University of Waterloo, 85% of the correspondents expressed that charm was the principle reason for their attraction to the opposite individual.

Some people are born with the gift of being naturally charming. But most people lack the skill or just never learned the proper techniques through social communication. This does not mean a person cannot learn how to be charming. All one needs, is to understand what people find charming and practice it over and over again, until it becomes naturally part of their personality.

Do Ladies Find YOU Attractive?

When asked, most women say they want a nice sensitive guy that will buy them flowers and basically act like one of their girlfriends. They like the idea of getting flowers and having a sensitive guy to talk to about their problems.

Note: A lot of men end up becoming that guy, the guy that girls talk to about their problems. But the relationship usually doesn't get any farther than being just friends.

All women will tell you they want to date the nice guy or that they can never seem to find a nice guy to date.

The problem is, this isn't exactly correct. These women aren't lying when they say they want these things...when they think logical they do, because it makes sense. But remember, women don't choose logically what they are attracted to.

So, when they think about it consciously. Women want a guy that will buy them flowers and talk to them when they feel down. But in reality, their instinct is to like a guy who will take control and act like a man should.

The Player's Guide

So what qualities do women want in men?

What they've always wanted and always will want. Women want real men, men that are in control and don't ask for permission to do anything. They don't want to be in charge, they want someone to be in charge of them.

I know this sounds harsh, but it's true.

Here are some examples, have ever noticed that...

When you give a girl a compliment or tell her how beautiful she is she shies away from you?

This probably happens every time you try and start a conversation. But when you...

Notice a flaw about her, she will get more involved in the conversation and take you more seriously.

Also, have you noticed...

When you spoil a girl by buying her gifts, taking her to an expensive dinner, she usually thanks you the evening and goes out with another guy?

But, If you simply go for a quick drink and act like you are equals she feels attracted to you, because you're not catering to her every need.

Have you noticed when....

You call a girl often after a date and she seems distant and funny.

But, when you don't call her and you act like you're busy and could live with her or without her, she won't stop calling you.

The truth is women don't want to be catered to, spoiled or treated like princesses. This is what women want from a man...

First of all, women want you to be confident in your self. So, if you approach a girl and seem shy and awkward, that is a turn off.

Women want you to lead the way, not the other way around. They don't want to talk about what you are going to do, they just want you to lead the way and do it.

They want you to keep it cool and NOT get emotional. So if you are the kind of guy that has a hard time keeping his emotions to himself, you are going to have to work on it.

They want you to be fun and entertaining, not boring and dull. Just because you are into collecting stamps or collecting model planes, it does not mean you have to bore the poor girl to death about your hobby.

Women want you to make them laugh. So again, you have to be entertaining and fun.

They don't want to know everything about you all at once, they want to wonder. So, no matter how tempting it may be you don't have to tell them your whole life story. Women want to keep guessing.

They want you to have more to talk about than "the game last night", they want you to be interesting.

They want you to be headed somewhere, they want you to have a life goal or something you are trying to achieve. In other words, they want you to know what you want from life.

Practicing Your Inner Charm

Charm is simply the art of letting someone know that you feel good about them, without embarrassing them or asking anything of them in return. And this is really attractive. The following checklist should help you accomplish your goals:

- Charm has an ally in eye contact. Never forget to look into someone's eyes when speaking to them.
- Charming someone includes complimenting them. What you should compliment is relatively easy to figure out, just figure out what would it take to make you feel complimented, and do the same to others.
- Charm has to be sincere. It is strongest when you believe what you're saying.
- Charm is done pleasantly and lightly.
- The secret to charm is to be selfless. You should not ask for anything, not even feedback.
- Charm isn't sexual. It's just warmth.
- Charm is exerting strong confidence.

- Charm at its simplest just says, "You are terrific. Thank you for letting me bask in your glow."

For a person not to come off as rehearsed, one needs to practice. So where do you start? Any place. Practice on your mother, sister, dog, neighbor, dad, your boss, teacher, friends, the stranger on the street-corner. You will also be amazed at how charming people will be in return. Don't forget to smile. It makes you look alive.

Set the Bait and Let Her Come to You

For a woman to know that you are interested, she must be aware of it. If she is not, then absolutely nothing will happen. You therefore have to take a risk. This is where the chase begins.

Pick the woman that you are interested in, wherever you may be. May I suggest that you choose your lady early and concentrate only on her the whole time you are there. If you start looking around too much, you will give her the impression that you are looking for anyone to sleep with. After you find her, begin by looking for body language signs, such as eye contact, a smile, hair touching, etc.

If you get these signs from her, you must move quickly. Most men just wait around eyeballing the lady the whole time. By the time they get the nerves to go talk to her, either someone else moved in, or she'll think you are some perverted stalker because you gawked too much.

Okay, now you made your move. You initiated the conversation. Now how do you make sure you keep the conversation going, and ensure she remains interested? Spoil her with attention by asking her all types of questions regarding her life. No sex-related questions please. Instead, talk about her likes, her education, movies, even the current awkward situation. The important thing is to not mention anything about yourself, unless of course she asks you to. If she does, (this usually means she's interested) please remember to be brief and move the topic back to focus to her.

Once the conversation deepens, it is okay to mention that you'd like to keep in contact with her, and ask for a phone number!

Don't Just Sit There...Call Her Up!

The first phone call should be at least two days after the encounter. The conversation should revolve around how much fun you had with her, and how impressed you were with her personality. In other words, compliment her like crazy. Make sure that the first phone call does not last more than twenty minutes. It is crucial that you end the first phone call first. If she ends the conversation, the ball is in her court. The conversation should end with you inviting her out for a coffee.

For Future Phone Call Notice: A lot of times when girls call me, I have noticed that when they call they will use the, "Hi. It's me!" line.

Don't fall for this!

Even though you may have Caller ID or recognize their voice, NEVER acknowledge that you automatically know who it is. It's a test to see if how whipped you are.

So when a girl calls you and says, "Hi. It's me", respond with, "Who is this?" This throws her off and keeps her wondering whether she is the only girl you are seeing!

The First Encounter, The First Date

One of the most common pieces of advice women and even men give to people looking to become better in the dating scene is "JUST BE YOURSELF".

Some people see this advice as wrong because "just be yourself" requires no work, and without work one cannot get anything in life. These people that feel trying to improve oneself is the way to go in the dating scene.

Let me give you my insight on this topic.

First of all, depending on who says "just be yourself" changes the meaning.

For example, if a novice says "just be yourself" he means to do nothing and just let fate take its course. On the other hand, if an experienced guru on dating says "just be yourself" then it has a totally different meaning.

Being yourself, your true self that nature intended you to be, requires a lot of work. It requires that you first remove all the doubt and fear you have of women, for when you have fear and doubt then you are not being yourself. It means removing all guilt you have: guilt of hurting other people, guilt of doing something wrong.

Hence, "just be yourself" means to remove all bad emotions you carry inside of you so that you see your true self, and when that happens, you become more attractive to women.

Getting to know the person in front of you!

It sounds simple, but if you remember this when you're in the real world talking to a real woman, you'll loosen up, and start genuinely try to get to know her, and she'll FEEL that.

If she feels like you are actually interested in her, she'll become MUCH more interested in YOU. I've got a few great tips for you to use next time you talk to a nice looking girl.

1. Notice what she gives you.

Here's what I mean. If, during the conversation, she mentions that she went bowling last week with her best friend, then you should ASK her about it. She's giving you a way to ask her about her personal interests, and she's hoping you'll pick up on that, and run with it.

Remember, take what she gives you, and use it as an entry way into a deeper conversation about personal interests, instead of being stuck in endless small talk (which she doesn't want either).

2. Ask her direct questions about her personal interests.

Don't make the mistake of spending too much time talking about "surface level" stuff, like the weather, or the other people in the place, or the band that's playing.

That kind of conversation is only interesting for the first couple minutes, because she's waiting for you to take it to the next level.

Don't be afraid to just go ahead and ask her about herself. I know this sounds like common sense, but do you DO it in real life? If you see that she's wearing an interesting necklace, ask her about it. If you saw her playing pool before, ask her who taught her how to play.

The point is... you want to talk about personal stuff, not surface level crap. Start with small talk, but move out of it after a few minutes, or she'll get bored of the conversation.

3. Don't ask for a date. OFFER a date instead.

You're not a child who has to ask permission anymore. If you want to take a woman out, just let her know that you're interested in make an offer to spend time together at some place interesting.

Lots of people make offers to you every day. Some you accept, some you don't. Here's an every day example:

When you go through the drive thru at a fast food place, and you order a sandwich, what do you almost ALWAYS hear? Usually you'll hear something like, "You can upgrade that to a combo meal for only a dollar more. Would you like to do that today?"

It's kind of the same thing with talking to women.

She's already ordered the sandwich by having a nice conversation with you right now. You can simply let her know that you enjoy her company, and you'd like to offer her a chance to continue getting to know each other. If she says no, it doesn't have anything to do with you as a person. It's just not something she's interested in, just like you're not interested in buying the combo meal sometimes.

Here's why I bring this up. Those fast food places that offer the combos with each order have dramatically increased their total sales volume by just making that simple offer.

YOU could do the same thing with your love life!

You could dramatically increase the amount of women you date just by offering each one that you're interested in a chance to get to know you even better. If one says no... who cares? The next 2 will say yes. But ALWAYS make the offer.

The 14 year old kid at the drive thru isn't afraid of you saying "No thanks, and you shouldn't be afraid of some woman saying the same thing.

Remember, talking to women is not a sporting competition that you either win or lose. She's a real person who's giving you an opportunity to get to know her. She won't always make it so easy for you, but just keep trying.

Focusing on "getting a result" from the interaction is a huge mistake. It makes her feel like you see her as a "task" that needs to be completed instead of a person.

Do your best to get to know her, and forget about getting phone numbers and emails. When you become genuinely interested in the women you talk to, the phone numbers and emails will pile up faster than you can count them!

It's Now or Never

We all want to avoid hearing those dreaded words, "Let's just be friends."

Here is a little rule I have devised. Of course it's not full-proof (but then again, what is?), but bear this in mind when meeting a new girl:

You will have 2 meetings, starting from the moment the two of you meet, to assert that you want to be more than just friends.

Now of course you want her to know that you are more than a wimpy nice guy from the very moment you meet her, but always assume that if you do not assert your charm within the first two meetings, she will consider you boyfriend material.

If you do not do this within this timeframe, you will have an exponentially harder time convincing her that you are the man for her.

So act fast, do what you need to do, and never hear these dreaded words ever again!

The Power of Patience

Most guys fail because they come on entirely too strong, too fast. After a couple of dates, they wanted to marry the person. Though they might have been smooth, they could not hold back their desire for a girlfriend. Women can sense this and recoiled from them instantly.

Women, on initial dates, just simply want to have fun and have a good time. Men can throw too much affection too soon, too fast, and scare the woman off. Women find this as 'desperation'. It is the ultimate turn-off to them.

Patience is NOT inaction nor 'chickening' out. Not asking out a woman you're interested in is not being patient but being stupid. Patience is controlling your eagerness.

Have fun with the woman. Don't take your outings so seriously. A woman must feel comfortable and secure with you before intimacy can begin. The key to her feeling comfortable and secure is by having fun WITH YOU.

Older women (in their 40s, 50s) have told me that one of the most common mistakes guys can make is trying to jump into a strong relationship after only a couple of dates. They said that women simply want to have fun and that if the guy smothers her with affection, she will distance herself. After all, who wants to be with someone that appears eager and desperate?

Leadership within the Relationship

Most Girls have a tendency to be their own worst enemy when it comes to killing attraction. If a girl had a really great time with you, she will call you constantly, but it's your job as the man to control the relationship.

You don't have to pick up the phone every time she calls you know.

Talking to each other constantly will ruin the attraction when you first start dating.

Here is what I do after a good date...

Call her the next day, tell her you had a great time and you hope she did as well, make a funny comment and go.

Don't ask for a second date straight off the bat. You want her wondering about you for a while, building anticipation. You don't want to come across as needy and desperate.

Don't text her, don't email her, don't talk to her on msn, icq and don't ring her for a few days, then out of the blue, ask her for a second date.

If she calls you, you can pick up and go I'm kinda busy right now, and can't talk, so why don't we meet up, Tuesday next week at this place.

She basically did the asking out for you by calling back and you don't come off as needy and desperate because you make it look like it was her idea!

Never see a girl more then 2 times a week when you are first dating for the first few months and you should be dating other women.

Dating Different Women

Most men think that dating multiple women at the same time is a wrong thing to do and it's cheating. They couldn't be farther from the truth.

Men think this because women have told them that guys who date other girls at the same time are scum, yet they continue to date them....

I'm not talking about sleeping with millions of women every week, I'm talking about going out and having fun and meeting new people in a friendly environment.

If a woman says after a few dates, I think we should date exclusively, you have to ask yourself if that's what you want, do you want a relationship, because that is pretty much what she is asking.

Just be honest with everyone you date from day one and there will be no problems what so ever if you want to date multiple women at the same time.

Just don't cheat on someone if you said you would date them exclusively, don't be a jerk and treat women badly, just be honest and have fun and they will respect you for it.

Getting into Internet Dating Scene

Internet Dating has made meeting beautiful women much easier than it ever was. It is now a lot easier to make a good first impression or even get enough courage to actually start talking to a beautiful girl.

So, besides the reason mentioned above why is internet dating so great?

There are obviously other, more popular ways of meeting women. You can go to bars or clubs, speed dating, singles events, placing personal ads, even walk the streets looking for women to meet. But, internet dating beats all of them (at least for the average guy). Here is why

First of all, it is very cheap. You don't need to dress up to sit in front of your computer, you don't need to buy anything...that's cheap.

It is also very fast, a lot faster than planning a day out. All you have to do is log on to the internet and send a greeting to the girl you want to talk to.

On top of all that, it is extremely simple to use and more importantly a lot of fun!

But the most important reasons that internet dating is king of all the different ways to meet women are...

A) Women are a lot more open to your "moves" on the internet than they are in person. There is nothing intimidating, uncomfortable or even scary to a woman about a bunch of typed text that you sent her.

B) You don't have to fear being rejected face to face. That will eliminate being nervous, clumsy or scared. Basically, you can be as smooth as you want without screwing it up.

And whether you like it or not, rejection is part of the dating process...a big part. Even the best looking men on the planet get a "no" more often than they hear a "yes".

Why? Because most women look for more than just looks and money, they want comfort, fun, mystery and a whole bunch of other things most men simply don't think about.

So don't worry, even Brad Pitt gets rejected.

In a lot ways dating is a numbers game. And the problem with that is most men have terrible odds when it comes to dating. The job of this book is to lower the odds for you and make you more successful with the type of women you want to date.

But even if you are a busy guy, this guide is for you and that's why internet dating is great. Put up a profile, tweak it a bit until it sounds good and away you go. It's your own automated dating machine that's up 24/7 attracting women around the clock.

And that reminds me of another great thing about online dating: not only will you be able to easily approach any woman you like, but woman will approach you as well!

And don't worry, you don't have to be attractive, rich or anything like that. In fact, the guys I know who are most successful with women don't have a lot of money and they are just average looking men. Nothing special about them...except they know what women want, they behave and hold themselves in ways women find attractive.

Which Dating Site to Choose From

There are THOUSANDS of online dating sites out there, so what one's best for you? For starters, the best idea is to cast a wide net and put your profile on at least 3 online dating sites.

What you should do is put your profile on at least three different dating sites.

For example, you can post your profile on Match.com, Yahoo personals and a smaller more local website that contains people only close to where you live.

I usually get a lot more of the women I like and that are closer to me by using the niche online dating site, but I get the bulk of my dates from women on Match.com and Yahoo personals.

So what sites should you be using?

I really recommend you use Match.com as one of your choices.

Here are a list of online dating sites I recommend trying.

Yahoo Personals

Lava Life

Adultmatchmaker.com

Eharmony.com

Americansingles.com

Adultfriendfinder.com

Jdate.com

Christiansoulmates.com

Date.com

Friendfinder.com

Singleparentsmingle.com

How to Make an Attractive Online Profile

The MOST IMPORTANT aspect of any successful Internet dating venture is your online profile. Personally, I use 2 profiles to attract dates.

The bad boy profile which attracts a certain more wilder person, and the nice guy profile that attracts the nice girls you would be proud to bring home to mother.

Feel free to steal and change these profiles. Whatever you do, don't just copy them as they are, it would look stupid seeing hundreds of profiles online exactly the same, and besides, you really should put your own personality into it, as this profile is about you and not about me.

Of course, you can use them as is if you want, but you will get better results if you tweak them to suit your personality.

If you are the more cocky and confident person, use the "bad boy" profile, but make sure you are the same person online as you are offline or it will be a waste of time.

You must also have a photo on your profile! If they give you room to put up more than one photo, don't do it, just put one good photo up of you.

I might party hard, but I also enjoy quiet nights at home watching a DVD, or doing things that couples do in their own private space.

With that said, I'm the type of guy of both extremes, so finding someone willing to spend quality time with has been more difficult than first thought, hence signing up with this site, hopefully it works out well???

Don't be alarmed thou, all the sharp utensils are under lock and key.

OK, I realise this profile tends more toward the humorous rather than the serious which I guess is indicative of my personality so here are some details which might help to round out the picture.

spent keeping fit, reading, going to the movies, riding bikes...both mountain and motor and, of course, looking for my favourite hat.

I have a large family whom i see fairly often but not often enough. I grew up in the country (or should I say I got older in the country) but, after 20 years in Melbourne, any trace of the "country boy" is well and truly gone.

Whilst I have your attention, can you please be who, and what, you say you are in your profile.

Ideal partner:

Between 25 and 42 years old , at most 5'7"/170 cm

Hmmmmmm, Fit, fun, confident, adventurous, young or young at heart and can tell me where I left my favourite hat. It's gotta be around here somewhere. Oh, on the off chance you do feel sufficiently inspired to send me a kiss, please include your photo password if applicable ;-)

Ok, so you're online, you're searching for profiles of other women and you find a few you want to email, what next?

The first email is crucial. You have to remember, women are getting sometimes hundreds of emails a day, so you have to stand out straight away!

Just like in marketing, your headline should be eye grabbing!

The best way to do this is to mention something about her profile in your headline. I've made the mistake of writing things like "hey there" in the subject heading and it's really not a good idea.

If in the photo she puts on her profile, she's wearing something unique comment on it.

Example Subject Headings

Where did you get that necklace from?

I don't think you're going to like me....

That top you are wearing is....

You're lucky I emailed you!

etc....

Things like that get a woman's attention when she's reading her email.

That's the first mistake most people make, the second one is they write too much in their first email! They write a whole life story. Just keep it short and sweet.

Here is an example first email I use.

Heya,

If you want to have an enthralling chat/get to know me better my msn address is myemailaddress@here.com so that's the place to do it, or even better, over a crownie or 3 :) I live in City, near some place.

I'm off to try and find a place that does a decent oysters kilpatrick, so have a good night.

Cheers

your name, your profile id name

P.S. make a funny comment here about her profile/suggest if she doesn't have msn to either download it or buy you a beer and meet up instead.

Notice I don't try and get an email relationship happening, you need to hook your date quickly.

You need to get from one step to the other quickly.

If she emails you back and says she doesn't have msn or any instant chat device, ask her for her phone number.

It's that simple. Don't become email buddies!

Another method I use when the lady I'm contacting is a little hesitant to give away too much contact info is to use a bait method. I know that's a terrible way to put it, but it's true.

This email I'm about to show you get's the woman interested in having a conversation with you. Women love to have a conversation and to be asked questions, but you have to know how to do it the right way.

Here is an actual email I send out to this day.

"Girls name here, I need a woman's opinion, (assuming you are the attractive woman in that photo and not an 80 year old man with braided ear hair). My friends and I were talking, and we were saying how cool the 50's and 60's were, especially the dating.

I miss that excitement of dating a girl the old fashion way? And I don't mean beating her over the head and dragging her back to my cave. What do you think?

Let's catch up for that drink, my phone number is # - or if you want me to do the ringing, send me your phone #. Call me cautious, but I always like to talk to girls first before I meet them."
